- MP calls for more money for repairs

Harlow MP Robert Halfon is calling on the Government to set aside more money for pothole repairs.

Mr Halfon raised the issue in Parliament after the Star reported that the number of potholes on 125 miles of roads in Harlow increased to 632 in the first quarter of this year.

It comes in the same week that a Freedom of Information request by Labour county councillors revealed that almost £3m has been paid in pothole injury compensation in the period from January 2009 to March 2014.

The number of claims made against Essex County Council for alleged injuries sustained by tripping over or falling into potholes in public areas topped £2,985,000.

Figures show that since 2009 more than 100 claims have totalled in excess of £10,000 each. Some payments made to members of the public involving footpath injuries exceeded £30,000, with injury claims aside from footways involving kerbs or carriageways.

Speaking in Parliament last week, Mr Halfon welcomed the additional £20m provided by the Chancellor to repair potholes but asked for additional help to tackle the damage that has been made worse as a result of the weather over recent months.

He has now launched a campaign to tackle Harlow’s potholes by creating a database of hazards in the town and lobbying Essex County Council to repair each one.

He is also encouraging residents to write to him about any potholes in their area so he can take up their concerns with the local authority.

Eight out of 10 parents get first choice primary school

MORE than 93 per cent of parents have been offered their first or second choice of primary school for the next academic year, according to county education chiefs.

Figures released by Essex County Council yesterday (Wednesday) show a total of 86.72 per cent were offered their first choice school, with 6.83 per cent their second and 2.45 per cent their third.

County councillor Ray Gooding, cabinet member with responsibility for education and lifelong learning, said: “I am fully aware that many parents will have been waiting nervously ahead of primary offer day and I am sure many will be delighted with the outcome and will now look forward to September.”

“The fact is that despite pressures on primary school places, we have maintained high numbers of parents being offered their first preference school and this highlights the council’s work to create the necessary places.”

“To respond to the challenge of population increases we have commissioned almost 600 more reception places for September 2014 and are committed to delivering another 300 primary places by September 2015.”

He added: “It is also important, at this time, to recognise the hard work and dedication of our primary schools in improving standards. The number of primary schools judged good or outstanding in the county has increased from 62 per cent in 2012 to 70 per cent in 2013.”

“Cooking is one of the major causes of fires in the home and even the smallest kitchen fire can cause devastation to your home and leave loved ones injured or even killed.”

AT OWN centre art gallery is looking for a new home after being told it must vacate its premises in West Gate.

Gatehouse Arts has been based in the shop unit for around three years but it will close on Easter Monday without being given just three weeks notice.

The space was first given to the group to help redevelop the site.

The Harvey Centre, which holds the lease on the property, is now working with the Association for Cultural Advancement through Visual Art to find Gatehouse Arts a new home.

Harvey Centre manager Bryan Young said: “We are talking to ACAVA and working hard to find Gatehouse Arts another location. This is not a malicious move, we are not closing down the gallery and we will endeavour to find them a new space.”

“It is just about moving the gallery to another space and we are doing all we can to help with that.”

The gallery is being evicted to make way for a shop which is currently in Little Walk. The shop will take on the premises on a permanent lease.

“Somebody has made an offer to take a permanent lease,” said Mr Young. “The gallery has a temporarily lease and we would rather have a permanent lease.”

Gatehouse Arts also has smaller premises in nearby East Gate as well as a range of studios above the West Gate gallery.

One artist, who asked not to be named, said: “It is sad. I think shopping centres need these sorts of spaces where people can come in and see something different and maybe even learn something new.”

On the move: Gatehouse Arts member Amanda Westbury at the gallery in West Gate, which will close on Monday.
Tories are jumping on the bandwagon of our campaign

Sir: Harlow Conservatives have put out their own version of The Sun, complete with red top, as part of their local election campaign. It resembles its sister publication in bias and inaccuracy.

On page 2 there is a picture of Old Harlow councillors and one prospective councillor standing by the Golden Way sign. The blue roses looking very concerned. As far as I am aware this is their sole contribution to the very vigorous campaign against the proposed M11 junction 7.

This campaign has been led throughout by Harlow Civic Society. We held the meeting at St John’s ARC in February which was attended by nearly 200 people and resulted in a resolution carried with no opposing votes calling for the scrapping of the plan in favour of a northern alternative.

We handed in a petition at County Hall signed by 1,400 people. Councillor Mike Danvers, who is not a Tory, discovered that the consultation document was flawed, causing the council to recall the plan in even worse terms. We are currently waiting for their reply on that issue.

Harlow Council has carried a resolution opposing the Golden Way alternative.

Some weeks ago MP Robert Halfon put out a very gossipy postcard asking for people’s responses to the plan. The text stresses that the only serious contender for the new junction is Golden Way.

I assume that there has been some dissent from Old Harlow councillors fearful of losing their seat in the May election.

However, in spite of their pitiful claim to lead the opposition to the Golden Way alternative, I suspect that Mr Halfon will enthusiasm blanketed it, if and when it comes to pass.

Yes, parking is a problem but car owners are not ignorant

Sir: I am writing in response to the letter from Terry Oliver regarding parking in Harlow (Star, April 10). I do feel that people ignorant was unacceptable.

Firstly, if Mr Oliver has a nice driveway or garage to park his car or maybe does not own a vehicle. I do appreciate that many car owners in Harlow is a major problem and at times I have had to walk in the road as the pavements were blocked.

However, where does Mr Oliver suggest car drivers go?

We want to be able to park as near to our homes as possible, especially coming home from work late at night. If he could come up with some useful suggestions I am sure hundreds of drivers would be really appreciative.

And how would fining people resolve the actual issue of parking our cars? Where does he think they would go?

There are lots of wasted spaces that are an eyesore, examples for example that are overgrown with bushes and shrubs which, if kept trimmed, would look very nice. But the council does not attend to these areas as often as should so they look an absolute mess.

I feel Mr Oliver should apologise. Car owners are not ignorant, they just want to have a space to park. How’s that being ignorant?

Only a matter of time before there is a serious accident

Sir: It’s time for drastic measures regarding parking in this town.

Not only do all and sundry help themselves to allocated parking spaces, they park up on the pavement with all four wheels completely blocking pedestrian access.

Motors pushchairs and the elderly have to walk on the pavement to access the places.

I notice that the green area at Pear Tree Road is again being used as an overflow car park. Perhaps these people will be happy when they have destroyed the design of the town entirely and clogged the whole place up with vehicles.

There will be a serious accident when people are obliged to walk in the road because they can’t use the pavement as it is blocked by a car.

Pedestrians are a hazard on town’s cycle path network

Sir: With reference to the letter about cyclists riding bikes on pavements (Star, April 10) and as a cyclist myself, the reason I have to sometimes cycle on the pavement is to avoid the pedestrians spread out all over the cycle tracks.

The best ones are the dog walkers with leads stretched from one side to the other. Even ringing the bell sometimes generates a dirty look. Some of the cycle tracks are a real pleasure to walk down, especially on a sunny day, but please spare a moment thought for the cyclist. After all, you’re on their road.

MP must understand the consequences of his actions

Sir: Our local MP is quoted as finding the issue of foodbanks and food theft complicated (Star, April 10). If it is complicated why did he vote down in Parliament a request to publish the official report on foodbanks?

In the same edition Mr Halfon complains, quite rightly, that his Tory friends at County Hall are in the process of cutting school crossing patrols. Why then did he vote in Parliament to see local authority grants to be cut?

Does he think his actions in Parliament have no consequences?

This is the same MP who voted in Parliament to see VAT increased to a whopping 20p cent, whilst amongst other things sent petrol prices to record highs. Yet he continues to claim he is a champion of the motorist.

Happiness of the long distance runners

HARLOW residents pounded the streets of the capital as they joined more than 30,000 runners taking part in Sunday’s Virgin Money London Marathon.

Learning support assistant Ayshea Pite, 41, of Kentfield, completed the course in a time of 4:26:43. Ayshea, who works at Jerounds Primary School, raised more than £1,500 for St Clare Hospice.

Mr Hulcoop, who is already preparing for next year’s race, finished with a burst of speed and a headstand - a tradition he has carried out after every marathon. “I actually sped up a little towards the end as I wanted to finish in under five hours,” he said.

Friends Brian Whitnall, and Steve Daniel ran in aid of St Clare Hospice and raised £3,000. Brian, 40, of Woodcroft, Harlow, finished in a time of 5:32:04 and Steve, from Bishop’s Stortford, in 5:17:06.

“I found it really tough with the heat,” said Brian. “However the atmosphere was buzzing because it was so warm.”

Visual merchandising stylist Danielle Arnold, 24, of Dovehouse Croft, completed her first marathon for Demetia UK in memory of her grandmother and raised £500. She completed the course in 6:31:36.

Maths teacher Andy Kitson, 39, of Chapel Fields, crossed the finishing line in 3:31:13 and raised £3,500 for St Clare Hospice.

Personal trainer Lauren Davis, 30, of Katherines, recorded a time of 4:52:07 and raised more than £2,000 for Arthritis Care.

Harlow College student Tom Jarvis was one of the youngest runners to complete the marathon. The 18-year-old, who celebrated his birthday on Friday, finished in 4:23:09 and expects to raise more than £5,000 for the Catholic aid agency CAFOD.

Kate Stanley, who owns bootcamp StanleyFitness with husband Gary, completed the course in 5:36:45. Having set herself a target of £2,000, she has raised £3,924 for The Stroke Association, a charity she chose after her father suffered a stroke.

Emma Wadding, 37, a commercial recruitment manager, of Potters Field, finished in 4:11:10 and raised £650 for Diabetes UK in memory of her father, Raymond Benson who passed away suddenly last year.

Former Harlow Council councillor Paul Schroder finished in 4:23:29 and raised more than £1,600 for maritime charity Seafarers UK.

Health technician Glenn Roberts, 26, of Bush Fair, raised £1,005 for the neo-natal intensive care unit at Princess Alexandra Hospital which cared for his oldest son, who is now 4. Glenn completed the marathon in a time of 5:02:28.

Streets blackout is ‘putting lives at risk’

ESSEX County Council’s street light switch-off is risking lives, according to a leading roadside breakdown service.

The AA said night-time accidents in bad weather on 30mph urban roads have been slashed by 15.6 per cent over the past five years. But that figure falls to just two per cent where there are no lights or they have been turned off.

AA president Edmund King said: “Worse accident rates on roads with street lights turned off or not present is an insidious threat that has crept in literally under the cover of darkness.

“Many local authorities based their risk assessment on police accident profiles for the affected roads but this has two huge drawbacks.

“Firstly and fundamentally, roads that are safe when lit can become unsafe with the lights switched off, but that is only shown when drivers, cyclists, bikers and pedestrians start to get hit and killed.

“Secondly, with an extra casualty here and there, it is difficult to spot a creeping overall trend that might suggest something is dangerously wrong with a black-out.”

Bianca Castro

Official statistics show that, on darkened 40 mph built-up roads, accidents in the wet, snow or ice are down 21.8 per cent where there is lighting, but only 5.2 per cent where there is not.

Overall from 2007 to 2012, a 19.6 per cent reduction in road accidents along town and city roads where street lights were on shrank to 8.8 per cent where drivers, cyclists, bikers and pedestrians travelled in darkness.

Labour councillor Mike Danvers, who sits on both Harlow Council and Essex County Council, said: “As expected, the turning off of street lights in Harlow is having an adverse effect on the accident level and people reporting trips and falls. The sooner this policy is reversed at County Hall the better.

“Conservative councillors really do need to listen to public opinion and not ignore it. I continue to have strongly expressed opinions about the turn off both by email and on the doorstep. People are acquiring torches and putting up their own lights outside their front doors.”

“I have had the comment more than once ‘why do we pay local taxes if we can’t get proper services?’ I will continue to try to get this policy reversed at far away Chelmsford with a Tory administration that continues to ignore Harlow’s needs.”

A spokesman for Essex County Council said the part-night lighting scheme has been in place since 2007 and consultations took place before introduction.

He said: “We have ensured that those lights which meet the exception criteria are excluded from the scheme such as town centres, key road junctions and accident cluster sites.

“Essex County Council has been working closely with the emergency services and responds to representation from them regarding any areas which they believe should be exempt from the part-night lighting scheme.”

“Essex Police has previously said crime has fallen in that period since the blackout.”

CELEBRATING: Eve-Marie Darby, centre, with staff and children at Pyjama Drama

Eve-Marie in running for top award

A HARLOW businesswoman has been nominated for a national children’s award.

Eve-Marie Darby runs Pyjama Drama, a drama-based programme that runs alongside the national curriculum and encourages children to use their imagination. She has been nominated in the ‘most outstanding activity leader’ for the east of England region category.

The What’s On 4 2014 Junior Awards, which are in their eighth year, recognises the best activities, classes, people and places throughout the country. Ms Darby has now reached the national voting stage.

She said: “This is a fantastic honour to get this far and I am very proud to be the only Harlow small business to have made the final for this national award. If I did win this would really help my little business to grow.

From now until May 15, parents, carers and other residents can go online and vote for their favourite nominee.

The winners will be announced at an award ceremony on June 20. Everyone who votes will also be in with a chance to win two VIP tickets to the awards ceremony to meet the finalists, sponsors and VIP guests.

To vote, visit www.whatson4littleones.co.uk.

Thug forced ex-girlfriend to strip before assaulting her

A MAN who forced his former partner to strip to her underwear and stand outside on the balcony of her flat in Harlow while he burgled it has been spared jail.

Chelmsford Crown Court was told that as well as forcing his ex to strip and stand outside in the cold, David Dewberry, 26, of Old Leake, Boston, also attacked her, smashed property in her flat and, when he allowed her back inside, forced her to cut up her own clothes.

Dewberry, who was tracked down by the police, told the court he had come close to being sent to prison.

But instead the judge imposed a 12-month jail sentence suspended for two years and ordered Dewberry - who pleaded guilty to charges of burglary, assault and causing criminal damage - to attend a building better relationship programme.

Karl Volz, prosecuting, told the court on Friday that Dewberry had broken up with the woman in July 2013 after a five-year relationship.

On December 21 last year he had been staying at her home as a guest.

Mr Volz continued: “The following day he let himself in having taken the key the previous day, forced her down on the settee, smashed the television and slapped her around. He forced her to strip to her underwear and go out onto the balcony on a cold day.

“Afet she returned inside he forced her to cut up her own clothes, sat on her feet causing her pain and bruising and stole her phone and keys but the police tracked him down. He had booked himself into a hotel near Harlow station with a female.”

As he passed sentence the judge told Dewberry: “I’m not going to send you to prison immediately although I have to say you were not far off.

“You behaved in a disgraceful way coming up to Christmas last year when you fell out with your former partner and lost your temper, but I think it’s a one-off.”

Referring to the suspended sentence the judge told him: “You’ve got to have some threat hanging over your head so you don’t start thinking of bizarre things again.”

Golfers chip in to support school charity

MORE than 130 golfers took part in a charity match at the Manor of Groves in High Wycombe that raised £1,000 for ‘No Child Without’.

The event was set up by Passmores Academy PE teacher Dave Archer to support the local school, which has been chosen as the club’s charity of the year.

Club captain Brett Trevillion said: “The day was a big success with 134 golfers taking part. We’re happy to support a great local cause.”

Celebrities join in memorial day for soccer boss Don Watters

A CELEBRITY football match, live music and children's activities are being held in memory of Harlow Town FC's slain former soccer boss Don Watters, who died in October at the age of 62.

Mr Watters, who lived at Fir Park, Harlow and worked for Pitney Bowes, was a popular figure in the local football world. He had been in football management for more than 30 years, taking charge of Sandbridge Road Town, Stansted and Takeley during that time.

His son, Mark, has organised the memorial day, which will include a celebrity football match and several other events - with Paul Groves, chairman of Harlow District Football League.

It will take place at the Harlow Arena, home of Harlow Town FC, on Sunday.

As well as the games there will be performances by a number of local bands including The Albino Peaches, Simon Heath, A Fistful of Covers, Bob's Acoustic Emporium and Portland Avenue as well as singer/songwriter Ashley K.

"We will have bouncy castles, face painting, an Easter egg hunt and a load of stuff going on at the same time as all the games," said Mark. "It’s a packed event.

"In the evening we have eight local bands who have donated their time to perform and entertain the crowds. We’re really grateful to that.

"It’s very humbling to have so much support, with people sponsoring the event, taking part and helping out for free.”

Proceeds from the event, which will finish at around midnight, will be ploughed back into grassroots football in Harlow.

“By the time Mark had set up this event, taking part and donating his time, people were already champing at the bit to help get things off the ground. It’s momentous. It’s only our first event, but we’ve had a huge response," said Mark Watters, right, and Paul Groves."

Bikers’ egg run for sick children

A GROUP of motorcyclists will be delivering chocolate treats to Princess Alexandra Hospital’s children’s ward this weekend.

They will collect and deliver Easter eggs for youngsters on Dolphin Ward and are also raising funds for SANDS, a charity that supports bereaved families after stillbirths and neonatal death.

Motorcyclists will be meeting up at The Square on Sunday from 10.30am. Those taking part are asked to donate an Easter egg and a voluntary donation of £5 per motorcycle.

Members of the public who would like to donate an egg can do so and representations of eggs will also be present with collection boxes.

A SANDS fundraising evening will also be held at The Square on Sunday. Entry is £5 and doors open at 7pm.

Charity sleepout for the homeless

HARLOW charity Streets2Homes is preparing to hold its annual sleepout event to raise awareness of homelessness and collect money for the organisation.

The sleepout will take place in the grounds of St Mary-at-Latton Church next Friday (April 25) and everyone is welcome to take part.

Refreshments will be served from 9-10.30am before the sleepers find a spot to spend the night in the church garden.

Breakfast will be served at 6.30am.

Streets2Homes spokesman Kerrie Eastman said: "It’s all about raising awareness of homelessness and raising funds for Streets2Homes."

To sign up for the sleepout, call Kerrie on 01279 430031 or email kerrie.eastman@streets2homes.com.

Couple’s dance raises thousands

HARLOW couple Dave and Jean Roberts, of Commonside Road, have raised more than £4,000 for St Clare Hospice by holding a big band charity dance earlier this month.

A bumper raffle, the proceeds from which are being matched by Barclays Bank in Old Harlow and Hoddesdon, gave a further boost to the total.

Next open day at cat rescue centre

CHESTNUT Cat Sanctuary at Thornwood Common will be holding an open day tomorrow (Friday) to find new owners for some of the cats and kittens currently in its care.

The rescue centre holds similar events throughout the year to rehome animals and raise awareness of its work.

The open day takes place from 11am-2pm.

Lottery winners

The winner of the £1,000 first prize in the ST Clare Hospice lottery drawn on Friday, April 11 was ticket holder 586917 who lives in Epping.

DISABILITY charity Livability has launched a friends group to support the residents of Nettleswell Rectory.

The rectorcy in Manston Road, Harlow, is home to nine adults with learning disabilities who receive help to develop skills that will increase their independence.

The friends of Nettleswell Rectory Group now new raising funds to purchase items or equipment that would not normally be funded.

"The launch was a resounding success and very well attended by members of the community, residents and staff of Nettleswell Rectory, and given a boost by Mr Halfon pledging his support."

"From the launch we have raised just under £2,000. It’s a fantastic start to our fundraising, and we thank everyone for their support."
10 things to do over the Easter weekend break

FROM chocolate workshops to egg hunts and arts and craft activities, families in Harlow will be spoilt for choice with things to do this bank holiday. Here are 10 suggestions for the Easter break:

Pets’ Corner fun day
The Friends of Harlow Pets’ Corner will be hosting a fun day at the Town Park attraction on Monday from 11am-4pm. As well as a chance to meet all the animals and new arrivals, there will be an egg hunt, children’s games, face painting, a barbeque and lounge castles. Harlow MP Robert Halfon has volunteered to sit in the stocks while visitors pelt him with wet sponges.

Parndon Wood Nature Reserve egg hunt
Organisers have set up a series of challenges in the Parndon Wood on Sunday and those who complete all the tasks will take home a chocolate egg. The free Easter Egg hunt will take place on Sunday from 11am-3pm and booking is essential. Call (01279) 430005 to reserve a place.

Family fundraiser at Frankie and Benny’s
The Water Gardens restaurant will be raising money for Leukaemia & Lymphoma Research by holding colouring competitions, a charity raffle and face painting for the charity. Children will also be able to eat for free tomorrow (Good Friday).

Launch of Harvey Centre kids club
The Harlow town centre shopping mall will be launching its new kids club with a host of free workshops and activities. From 11am-3pm on Saturday children will be able to make treats such as cupcakes and brownies in a chocolate sensation workshop. There will also be an Easter-themed arts and crafts workshop, face painting and a treasure hunt led by the Easter Bunny. Harlow Town Park fun fair

The fair opens today (Thursday) at 6pm and runs over the bank holiday weekend offering all the popular rides for adults and children. It opens at 2pm on Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Easter Egg trail at Hatfield Forest
The National Trust has teamed up with Cadbury for an Eggsplorers Easter Egg Trail using an eggsploration kit consisting of a trail journal, map, passport and explorer hat to hunt out chocolate treats. Entry is £4 for two adults, £2 per child and £1 for children aged 6-16 (under 6s free) and is payable on the day.

Egg hunt on Epping Ongar Railway
From Friday to Monday the Epping Ongar Railway will be holding an Easter Egg hunt as well as lots of other activities for children and their families. The Easter Bunny will be making an appearance to guide youngsters in a hunt for eggs hidden at various locations around the railway. There will also be an owl display, face painting and a bouncy castle as well as unlimited travel on the heritage buses, steam and diesel trains. Family tickets (2 adults, 3 children) are £32 if bought in advance.

Gibberd Galley art workshop
Youngsters can unleash their inner artist at a dreams and fantasy workshop run by artist Ella McCartney at the Gibberd Gallery in Harlow Civic Centre on Saturday. The workshop, which costs £2 per child, will be a drop in session from noon-2pm.

Gibberd Garden egg hunt
Adults can enjoy the beautiful surroundings of the gardens in Marsh Lane, Harlow, while children take part in an egg hunt and a host of other activities on Sunday from 2-6pm. The Barn Tearoom will be open as normal for afternoon tea and cake. Entry to the gardens is £4 for adults (£3 concessions) and £1 for children aged 6-16 (under 6s free).

Burnt Mill Snooker & Social Club fun day
A family fun day will be held at the club in Edinburgh Way, Harlow, from noon to 10.30pm on Sunday. Activities will include an egg hunt, face painting and a children’s Easter bonnet competition. There will also be a children’s entertainer and a barbeque. Admission is free but you must obtain an advanced ticket from the bar – this includes a free Easter egg for every child.

Walkers to carry cross through town centre
Organisers of a Walk With The Cross procession through Harlow town centre tomorrow (Friday) will be holding a ‘cans for compassion’ collection for Harlow Foodbank. Those taking part in the walk will meet at St Paul’s Church for prayers at 9.30am before starting the procession at 10.15am. They will then assemble in the Harvey Centre at 11.15am.

More than 300 people joined last year’s walk, pictured right, which is organised by church group HeartHarlow.

Caring students presented with Diana Award

ST MARK’S WEST ESSEX CATHOLIC  A group of students at the Tripton Road school has received The Diana Award, presented in memory of the Princess of Wales who believed that young people have the power to change the world for the better.

The group of 25 students from Years 8-13 have received the Champion Volunteers award in recognition of the time and effort they have contributed to the development of the spiritual nature of the school.

The students have organised and led worship opportunities, raised funds for charity and designed and established a spiritual garden as a place where pupils and staff can spend time to reflect.

Harlow MP Robert Halfon said: “The school is very proud of these young people and looks forward to finding out what they have planned for the coming year. "They have made a valuable contribution to our school community and are positive role models for their peers. Being recognised by the Diana Award is a fitting reward for their dedication over the past year.”

Harlow MP Robert Halfon presented the students with their certificates during a special assembly to which their parents were invited. Headteacher Elaine Heaply said: “The school is very proud of these young people and looks forward to finding out what they have planned for the coming year. "They have made a valuable contribution to our school community and are positive role models for their peers. Being recognised by the Diana Award is a fitting reward for their dedication over the past year.”

Nursery tots have great time with Timmy

KIDDI CARU NURSERY
Youngsters received a visit from Timmy the sheep, star of children's TV show Timmy Time, after the nursery won a competition run by Sport Relief at Kiddi Caru’s 19 nurseries across the country.

The nursery in Klin Lane, Harlow, was chosen after sending in photos taken when staff and children ‘woolly jumped’ to raise money for the charity.

On Friday Timmy met the children and staff and was given a tour of the nursery including its new garden area.

Manager Jennie Gregory said: “Timmy Time is a firm favourite with all of the children here so to receive a visit from Timmy was an amazing treat for them. They were so excited and the visit itself lived up to their expectations. “We can’t thank Sport Relief enough for choosing us as the winner. It was an experience the children will not forget for a long time.”

School given fish tank by pet shop - now they wait to fill it

LITTLE PARNDON PRIMARY
A local pet superstore has provided a fantastic gift to the Park Mead school.

Pets at Home, off Edinburgh Way, delivered an aquarium and ornaments to brighten up the school. The tank is now up and running and the school is just waiting for it to be filled with fish.

Store manager Xai Harinton, said: “An aquarium has a number of therapeutic qualities, providing a calming influence and mental stimulation to help relax the mind. It is also a great educational tool.

“We will be providing the school with tips and guidance, as well as any maintenance advice they need.”

Teacher Lynne Edgley said: “We are very grateful for Pets at Home’s donation and everyone is looking forward to welcoming our new fishy friends in the very near future.”

Facelift enhances site of Hepworth masterpiece

BIANCA CASTRO
bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE location of one of Harlow’s most famous public works of art has been given a major facelift.

The area in Glebelands where Dame Barbara Hepworth’s sculpture Contrapuntal Forms is situated, has been landscaped as part of a project part-funded by Harlow Council.

Broken and dangerous cobbles have been removed, a section of paving damaged by vehicles has been relayed and a wooden fence installed around the whole area to protect it from vehicular access.

In addition, a pedestrian access rail and additional knee rail have been erected to provide further protection to the sculpture.

The work has been carried out by Kier Harlow.

A council spokesman said: “This is a fantastic transformation that makes a huge difference to this area and really helps to enhance and protect this famous sculpture which once again sits proudly.

“Harlow’s sculptures are part of everyday life in Harlow and working with the Harlow Art Trust we are always looking to do what we can to ensure they continue to be part of the local community.”

A representative of the arts trust added: “We are delighted with the sensitive restoration of the landscaped area surrounding Contrapuntal Forms, which is one of Dame Barbara Hepworth’s most notable sculptures and one of the most outstanding art works in the town.”

Originally commissioned by the Arts Council for the Festival of Britain in 1951, the sculpture in blue limestone was recently cleaned by an internationally renowned firm of conservation specialists.

The makeover was initiated by the arts trust which obtained match funding from the Hepworth Estate to pay for the work to be carried out.

The trust spokesman added: “The commitment of Harlow Council to improving and upgrading this part of Glebelands is a wonderful example of the public and charitable sectors working together.

“It is also proof of the seriousness with which the council takes the designation Sculpture Town.”

IN April 2013 the Government introduced the spare room subsidy — or ‘bedroom tax’ — for tenants under pension age living in council and social housing.

The new rules mean that tenants who have a spare bedroom have a 14 per cent reduction in their eligible rent for housing benefit while those with two or more spare bedrooms have a 25 per cent reduction.

For example, a couple whose children have grown up and left home and who have two spare bedrooms will have their eligible rent for housing benefit reduced by 25 per cent.

If their eligible rent is £100 per week, the maximum housing benefit payable is reduced by 25 per cent to £75 and they will need to make up the shortfall.

The size criteria restricts housing benefit to allow for one bedroom for each person or couple living as part of the household, with the following exceptions:

• Two children under 16 of same gender are expected to share
• Two children under 10 are expected to share regardless of gender
• A disabled tenant or partner who needs a non-resident overnight carer will be allowed an extra bedroom
• Approved foster carers will be allowed an additional room so long as they have fostered a child or become an approved foster carer in the past 12 months

An exception is also made for adopted children

• A member of the Armed Forces will normally be treated as continuing to live at home when deployed on operations.
• Disabled children who are unable to share a bedroom with a sibling because of their severe disabilities are allowed their own room
• Some students living away from home will be allowed a bedroom.

Children who don’t normally live with you are not included in the calculation of the number of bedrooms. If you share the care of a child, the child is counted as living in the home of the person who gets Child Benefit for them.

Some properties are exempt from the bedroom tax altogether, including shared ownership properties and some supported and temporary accommodation.

Councils can make discretionary housing payments to people facing hardship.

The rules are complicated and this article does not cover all of them.

Next month’s article will look at some of the loopholes.

In the meantime, seek advice if necessary.
Family-run plumbing business with a reputation for high-quality service

CF Oakes has been established since 1958 and in that time has built up an enviable reputation for quality, professional service. Originally set up by Charlie Oakes, the business is now run by Steve Oakes and his wife Jackie, who took charge in 1978. Year-on-year rise in thefts and car crime

CRIME in Harlow has fallen for the third consecutive year despite an increase in vehicle crimes and shoplifting.

Latest figures reveal the number of reported crimes for the 12-month period from April last year fell by 0.9 per cent. This compares to a nine per cent drop from April 2012 to March 2013.

The overall success rate for solving crimes in the Harlow district improved by 2.2 per cent – up from 32.80 per cent last year to 34.97 per cent.

While the number of crimes involving serious violence fell by 20 per cent from 50 to 40, serious sexual crimes rose by almost a third from 65 to 86. However, many of those cases were historic and involved victims who had only just gained the confidence to contact police.

Superintendent Justin Smith said: “While we have seen an increase in the figures for serious sexual crime, many of these are historic reporting where victims have been able to come forward. These all result in an investigation but people in Harlow do not need to feel vulnerable walking the streets at night because of this statistic.”

Police received 62 reports of crimes classified as racially-aggravated (down 4.6 per cent) while incidents of antisocial behaviour fell by 2.5 per cent from 3,969 to 3,870.

Domestic burglary has fallen since last year with a 13.8 (26.7 per cent) fewer incidents, while the clear-up rate rose by 2.6 per cent.

The number of robberies fell by 40.1 per cent with 59 fewer reported incidents while the number of cases solved was up by 10.7 per cent.

However, reports of shoplifting and vehicle crime both shot up over the past year. Thefts from shops rose by 15 per cent at 1,037 while vehicle crime was up by 3.2 per cent to 672.

Superintendent Smith added: “There is no one thing that has led to these results but a combination of many.

“We have a strong working relationship with the council who has worked with our very energetic neighbourhood constabularies and PCSOs to deal with longer running local problems and these are complemented by a team of tenacious initial responders who have acted on some excellent phone calls from members of the public.

“With the very visible results of the recent drug supply arrest led by our experience CID team we have seen that together we can achieve significant results.”

A LAW firm with offices in Harlow is hoping to raise £10,000 for Macmillan Cancer Support - and has started by using a popular confectionary.

Staff at Attwaters Jameson Hill Solicitors, which has branches in Hertford, Ware and Loughton as well as Harlow, are filling empty Smarties tubes with £1 coins.

When filled, each tube contains £27 which is enough to fund a Macmillan nurse for one hour.

Staff will also be holding their annual charity quiz and taking part in a countryside walk with friends and family. There will also be various other fundraising initiatives including dress down days and coffee mornings.

“We chose to support Macmillan Cancer Support not only because of the great work they do but also because so many of us have come into contact with them and witnessed first-hand their dedication,” said spokesman Stephen Goddard.

Moira Cromie, Macmillan’s fundraising manager for Hertfordshire and Essex, says: “They are hugely enthusiastic about their fundraising and just hearing about their plans makes me think they will hit their amazing target.

“The money they raise will make a huge difference. We cannot thank them enough for choosing to support Macmillan.”

Solar plane to fly world

A SOLAR plane built for an ambitious mission to fly around the world powered only by the Sun has been unveiled. The Solar Impulse 2 aircraft has a huge wingspan of 72 metres - equal to that of a Boeing 747 plane. It weighs about the same as a large car.

Its wings are covered in 18,000 solar cells that convert sunlight into electricity to power its motor and to store in its batteries. The global flight is set to take off next year. The Swiss team behind the project has already flown a previous solar plane across America.

Pop-up shop gives young people hope for the future

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A POP-up shop that aims to help challenge the negative perceptions surrounding the town’s young people was held in Harlow.

Organiser of the Pop Up Talent Shop, Kellie Tighe said: “This project is to help young people. If they feel lost and have nothing to do our aim is to listen to them and hook them up with employers to give them work experience. “We try to think differently by being interesting just like young people are. It is their projects.”

The Pop Up Talent Shop opened its doors to unemployed young people aged 16-25 on Friday.

Ambassadors and employers were on hand to talk to the young people and give them the chance to try out some of the jobs available to them.

The Pop Up Talent shop is part of a scheme by the Foyer Federation to challenge negative perceptions and give young people guidance, information and support on how to build their future.

David Akinya, who attended the event in Little Walk, said: “I think the project is a brilliant idea, it’s great that we get to get involved with employers. I’ve met the tattoo artist and the jewellery maker I have given them my email address and I look forward to hearing back from them.”

Neil O’Dell, who works as a chef at Princess Alexandra Hospital in Harlow, said: “A lot of young people turn to gangs when they feel lonely and have no-one to turn to. I’m here today to help them. I want to give young people the chance to become better people.”

Each student was asked to complete a short survey.

TALENTED: Ambassadors and young people who took part in the Pop Up Talent event

Trains are on track for punctuality

TRAINS operated by Abellio Greater Anglia achieved a punctuality rating of 92 per cent last month – beating the national average of 91.4 per cent, according to the latest Network Rail figures.

The route-by-route punctuality breakdown for March shows West Anglia – used by commuters from Harlow and Sawbridgeworth into London Liverpool Street – was 95.6 per cent while the Stansted Express to the airport achieved 92.1 per cent.

The current moving annual average performance figure was 91.7 per cent. This measures the average punctuality for the past 13 periods of train performance.

Jamie Burles, the operator’s managing director, said: “It is encouraging that our train service performance improved in March compared to the previous four-week period.”

Warrant issued for man’s arrest

A WARRANT has been issued for a Harlow man who failed to appear at court. Ricky Sheridan, 34, was last known to be living in Upper Mealines, Harlow. He failed to appear at North Essex Magistrates Court on November 11 last year to answer a charge of theft.

He is also suspected of committing other thefts in Harlow in September and October 2013 when goods totalling more than £200 were stolen.

Driver charged after collision

A MOTORIST has been charged with driving offences following a collision in Harbert Road, Harlow, involving six cars on January 31.

James Dodge, 39, of Felmongers, has been charged with aggravated vehicle taking and property damage, using a motor vehicle without insurance and driving without a licence.

He has been bailed to appear at Chelmsford Magistrates Court on April 24.

Resignation sparks by-election

VOTERS in the Mark Hall ward of Harlow will go to the polls next month for a by-election which has been called following the resignation of Labour councillor Paul Schroder.

Mr Schroder, one of three Labour councillors representing the ward, has stepped down to take up a full-time post for the maritime trade union Nautilus.

Mr Schroder, whose new duties will cover the whole of the UK, stood down with immediate effect. As a result, there will be a by-election on Thursday, May 22.

HOURS (2005) and Tales Don’t Tell Themselves (2007) showed an evolution in Funeral For A Friend’s musical style from the style which defined their debut, as the group began to diverge from their use of screaming vocals, heavy metal influenced guitars, favouring more melodic rock influences.

These albums achieved gold and silver sales certificates respectively in the UK. Funeral For A Friend self-released their fourth album, Memory and Humanity (2008) through their short-lived record label Join Us, the album arguably being their most eclectic to date.

Following this the band tied themselves to other independent labels for Welcome Home Armageddon (2011) and Conduct (2013), both of which showed the band returning to the metal and hardcore influenced style of their earlier work.

“I’m really happy to announce that we’re playing a rad, intimate show at The Square in Harlow in July.”

>> Funeral For A Friend will perform at The Square on July 25. A limited number of tickets costing £16 are still available at www.thesquareharlow.com.

Rare opportunity to see Stacey Kent live

GRAMMY-nominated singer Stacey Kent will be performing tracks from her new album at Harlow Playhouse.

The Changing Lights showcases Kent’s love for Brazilian music, featuring Bossa Nova classics like How Insensitive alongside originals by the songwriting team of Jim Tomlinson and acclaimed novelist Kazuo Ishiguro.

Stacey’s repertoire and audience have expanded with every album. Her platinum-selling album Breakfast on the Morning Train was nominated for a Grammy Award. While her follow-up albums, Rachel and Dreamer in Concert have been released in more than 37 different countries worldwide, making Stacey a truly international artist.

Stacey’s limited number of UK tour dates will provide a rare opportunity for fans to hear her performing tracks from the new album live.

>> Stacey Kent will be appearing at Harlow Playhouse on Thursday, May 1. Tickets cost £37-£20 and can be obtained from the box office on (01279) 431945 or by visiting www.playhouseharlow.com.

ART

A Journey Through Painting is an exploration of abstraction with beginnings in the landscape by Martin Walton. The paintings will be complemented by ceramics by Fraser Burchill. The exhibition runs until May 11 and the gallery is open from Tuesday to Friday from 10am-5pm and on Sundays from 2-4pm. Admission is free.

ART

The Civic Centre gallery is currently hosting the Harlow schools and college exhibition Dreams and Fantasy. The Royal Opera House Bridge has sponsored 10 young people aged 15-19 from Harlow for a six-month pilot scheme called Young Curators. The exhibition consists of 2D and 3D sound and film art works that expresses the young artists’ dreams and fantasies, fears and ambitions. The gallery is open Monday to Friday from 9am-4:45pm and admission is free.

ART

The West Gate gallery is hosting contemporary exhibition The Art of Craft runs in the gallery until Saturday (April 19). The exhibition celebrates contemporary craft, featuring artistic practices which push the boundaries between craft and fine art. The show highlights exceptional artworks crafted in glass, ceramic, textile, paper, wire, and wood. A programme of talks and workshops will accompany the exhibition exploring the processes and skills of different makers. The exhibition will be the final one at the gallery which closes on Saturday.
GARDENING & PUZZLES

Judge Jim on the case

By Hannah Stephenson

Just as Simon Cowell knows his music, and Bake Off judge Paul Hollywood knows his cakes, so award-winning gardening legend Jim Buttress knows his onions.

And his melons, aubergines, carrots, radish and runner beans.

The plain-speaking horticulturalist, former Royal gardener and current RHS Britain in Bloom judge is now also judge in BBC2’s new six-part series The Big Allotment Challenge, and he pulls no punches judging harvests produced by contestants on their made-for-TV allotments.

Filmed in a Victorian walled garden on the Mapledurham Estate in Oxfordshire, nine pairs of keen gardeners have spent months planning, planting and nurturing. Given their own greenhouses, they were handed particular vegetables, fruit and flowers to grow, as well as facing a number of additional weekly challenges including flower arranging and chutney-making, judged by floral arrangement expert Jonathan Mosley and preserves specialist Thane Price.

The series, presented by Fern Britton, was filmed last year from early spring until late summer, when award-winning Buttress then judged the produce, from blemish-free radishes to perfect sweet peas. So how harsh was he with this judging?

“I was once nicknamed Judge Dread but you don’t have to be hard, as long as you’re fair and consistent,” he insists. “You don’t have to hurt people but you can tell them, ‘This ain’t good enough’. Just be fair, be honest and give people advice so to why they didn’t win or they could have done better.”

Much of the advice he gives in this series is about the weather-related problems faced by competitors, because last spring was particularly cold. “Last year, March and April were awful. Light levels were appalling, we had a lot of cold weather and many people were ‘caught cold’. Stuff was put out which wasn’t hardy enough. The one thing you’ll never beat is nature. Then Mr Pest and Mr Disease comes along. It happens to everybody. They had to find a way around that.

“The most difficult thing is the timing. People who grow stuff in the garden generally don’t have a deadline. Each week we set them a task, whether vegetables or flowers, and if they didn’t have them ready then they didn’t have an exhibit. Luckily they’d grown twice as much as they needed to guarantee they had something.”

The subsequent hot weather in summer helped the growth catch up, but then it required constant watering and some produce needed slowing down.

The second strand of the competition, which is growing flowers, also put up its own problems, Buttress says. “Thrift was a menace last year with gladioli. They get the mottling vein. When the judge is looking at the exhibit, whatever it is, it’s the overall impression that matters. Is it free of blemish? That includes the root and the leaves and everything else. With the hot weather, stuff started to move much more quickly and required covering and protecting from the direct sun. They had the risk that sweet peas would flower too quickly.”

Away from the cameras and looking at other people’s gardening, Buttress is busy with his own efforts – he will be building the Homebase – Time To Reflect garden with designer Adam Frost at the RHS Chelsea Flower Show, and he is also helping to produce a display in the pavilion to mark charity Perennia’s 175th anniversary.

Last week’s answer:
Web-slinger’s return is a treat for Spider-fans

THE AMAZING SPIDER-MAN 2
certificate 12A, 2h22m

TWO is company but three super-villains are a crowd in Marc Webb’s action-packed sequel to his 2012 blockbuster.

A Russian mobster in rhinoceros-shaped armour, a maligned Oscorp employee who can shoot electricity from his fingertips and an iconic green-sinned imp with daddy issues all vie for attention during a rough ‘n’ tumble 142 minutes.

The film opens with a protracted flashback to the night Richard Parker (Campbell Scott) and his wife Mary (Embeth Davidtz) leave their young son in the care of Aunt May (Sally Field) and Uncle Ben (Martin Sheen).

The reason for his parents’ sudden disappearance continues to haunt Peter (Andrew Garfield), as does the ghost of Captain Stacy (Denis Leary), whose daughter Gwen (Emma Stone) is Peter’s on-off-off girlfriend.

While Peter ponders his powers, childhood friend Harry Osborn (Dane DeHaan) returns to the Big Apple to assume control of Oscorp in the wake of the death of his bullying father, Norman (Chris Cooper). Harry’s ascension coincides with an industrial accident that transforms nerdy employee and Spider-Man fanatic Max Dillon (Jamie Foxx) into an electrically-charged monster.

Thus Peter must potentially give up his life to protect Gwen and Aunt May from harm.

The Amazing Spider-Man 2 fleshes out the backstory of the Parkers and their involvement in secret experiments.

The film’s special effects wizards oblige with dazzling sequences of Spider-Man swinging at breathless speed through the skyscrapers of New York. Such is the dizzying velocity of these set pieces, director Webb repeatedly employs slow-motion to make sense of the blues of blue and red spandex.

But for all the sequel’s technical prowess, which is considerable, it’s the screen chemistry of Garfield and Stone - who met on the first picture and have been dating ever since - which provides more bang than the digitally-rendered pyrotechnics.

Peter and Gwen’s turbulent romance is the cornerstone and the film soars - rather like the titular hero - whenever they are together.

Foxx’s portrayal of the pathetic bad guy with unimaginable power coursing through his veins is more miss than hit. The script doesn’t spend enough time with his corporate nemesis before the metamorphosis into Electro. Consequently, gear changes between action, romance and comedy are not as smooth as they could be.

Thankfully, DeHaan is terrifically tormented as the heir to the Oscorp empire, who clings forlornly to the hope of a transfusion of Spider-Man’s blood to cure his genetic woes.

The sins of two fathers weigh heavily on their sons, laying the foundations for a battle royale between the wily web-slinger and an iconic adversary in a third instalment, earmarked for release in summer 2016.

Extended semi in the heart of town

THIS extended semi-detached property in Ram Gorse, Harlow, is at the heart of the town centre and makes an ideal family home. A porch leads into the entrance hallway where there are stairs to the first floor, a cloakroom and a door leading into the lounge.

The lounge has a window to the front and an attractive electric fireplace with marble surround and hearth. French doors open through to the kitchen diner/family room, which is a stylish open plan area in the ground floor extension.

The kitchen area is separated by a breakfast bar. There are modern, high gloss eye and base units with soft close doors and drawers, corner carousels and an integral dishwasher. A separate utility room is fitted with a range of wood-style units. The open plan dining room has patio doors leading out to the rear garden.

Upstairs on the first floor landing is a window to the side with a hatch to the loft space and doors to the three bedrooms and family bathroom. The master bedroom overlooks the garden and has a dressing room and en-suite bathroom. The second and third bedrooms have built-in wardrobes.

The rear garden is neatly enclosed with patio areas to the side and rear and a cupboard storage area. There is also a greenhouse and a centre lawn with flower and shrub borders.

A driveway leads to a detached garage and workshop which both have power and light connected.

This property is on the books of Geoffrey Matthew Estates. Call (01279) 444988 for full details or to arrange a viewing.

ALTHOUGH more of us than ever are expecting rises in property prices over the next 12 months, it seems the vast majority of potential buyers are not willing to compromise on their chosen location.

So say the findings of Rightmove’s latest Consumer Confidence Survey which asked more than 45,000 respondents for their opinion on the current housing market.

The vast majority – 90 per cent – said they would not settle for anything less than where they had set their hearts on.

Amongst those looking to buy, the survey showed that downsizers were the least willing to settle for second best (92 per cent) whilst first-time buyers were much more willing to compromise, although 85 per cent still wouldn’t look elsewhere.

Rightmove director Miles Shipside pointed out that as house prices move upwards, it would make more sense for buyers to widen their search.

“There’s a real mismatch between buyers’ no-compromise stance on their most favoured place to live and the rising tide of prices,” he said.

“Playing a waiting game and holding out for the right property in the right location could prove very expensive.

With prices in some locations rising by the month, buyers may discover that the one they’ve been waiting for is over their budget.”

The market certainly seems to be gathering pace around us which makes finding the right property in the right location and at an affordable price a considerable challenge.

Some buyers are successful but more aren’t – 32 per cent claimed to have found a home in their ideal location but 58 per cent were still looking or waiting.

Maybe now’s the time to add new buzzwords such as ‘flexibility’ and ‘open mindedness’ to our usual ‘location, location, location’ mantra.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).
Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before its recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What’s more, for certain types of vehicle you’ll get a DVLA Approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA a your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility.

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF: B & T Motor Salvage

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own recovery vehicles and issue a Certificate of Destruction from the Department of Vehicle Licensing Authority via our direct link to their website.
Payment per vehicle negotiable.

Description
Order to be suspended
Effect of the Order:

A1169 Elizabeth Way, Harlow
From a point 80 metres east of its junction with Roydon Road Roundabout north-eastwards to its junction with Pardoin Mill Lane, a distance of approximately 1500 metres.

The District of Harlow (Various Roads) (50mph, 40mph, Speed Limit) Order 2004 – suspend 50mph on Elizabeth Way from its junction with Pardoin Mill Lane south-west to a point 79 metres south-west of its junction with Wall Lane.

The District of Harlow (Various Roads) (50mph, 40mph, Speed Limit) Order 2004 – suspend 40mph on Elizabeth Way from a point 79 metres south-west of its junction with Wall Lane south-westwards to a point 80 metres north-east of its junction with Roydon Road Roundabout.

The District of Harlow (Various Roads) (50mph, 40mph, Speed Limit) Order 2004 – suspend 40mph on Southern Way between its junctions with Katharines Way and the easternmost junction of Parrrington Road.

The Orders specified in Column 3 above are temporarily suspended insofar as they relate to the roads of length specified in Columns 2 and 3 above. All other restrictions will remain in force.

The works will be carried out in phases; the maximum length of 10mph limit at any given time will be 500 metres. The remaining length will be subject to the existing speed limit.

The restrictions are required for the safety of the work force and public while a conveyor system is in operation to allow for carriageway maintenance works. The works are scheduled to take place within an 18 month timeframe starting from the 1 May 2014. The 10mph restrictions will be in operation at all times while operatives are working in those lengths of roads between the hours 09:30 - 15:30 or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting. On completion of the works the road will revert to the existing speed limit.

The Order will come into effect on 1 May 2014 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Good Knight for Hawks as they seal third spot

North Herts Knights ..........55
Harlow Hawks ..................70

A TOP-three finish in the Herts Bassetlaw League means the division two was assured by Harlow Hawks after an impressive 70-55 victory against North Herts Knights.

Delighted Hawks player-coach Shab Niaz said: “The win means that the worst that we can finish is third in the league. This was a vital win because it means we will have home court advantage when the division two play-offs start towards the end of the month or in the first week of May.

“We are not sure who we will face in the play-off quarter-finals because the final league fixture will be played on Sunday April 27, and could have a potential impact on other teams’ final positions.”

Sunday’s victory in Hawks’ final league game completed a three-match winning streak and means Harlow have now won their last six play-offs with growing confidence.

The Hawks started the first quarter strongly by opening up a seven-point lead.

Six points from Tom White and a three pointer from Russell Stonehouse capped the run off.

However, it was sloppy defensive play that prevented the visitors from taking full control of the game in the opening period as the Knights converted two and one plays in the final minute of the quarter to bring the scoreline at 16-16.

The Hawks opened up the second period with an impressive 10-2 run, as Rohan Lenihan came off the bench to hit two consecutive three pointers. Rimas Norkelinas and Alex Hinds also diminshed.

Saw the Hawks’ lead quickly with a second barrage of three pointers from the Knights, but the 34-27 in favour of the Hawks.

They managed a 10-2 run in the third quarter with a three-pointer to give the Hawks a 44-39 lead before finishing with a 11-10 run.

While Harlow continued to score close to the basket in the fourth quarter as Norkelinas came up with countless second chance opportunities for hit-scorers to spurt an 18-4 run, with superb defence from the Hawks leading to fast breakaway scores for Lenihan and Stonehouse.

The Hawks ended the third quarter up 52-39.

Hawks smash title favourites

ALEX Read broke a 25-year record when he scored for Harlow Town as they won 5-2 at 10-man Witham Town in Ryman League division one north, last Thursday night.

Read’s three goals took his haul to 47 this season, surpassing the 44 scored by former Harlow striker Jeff Wood in 1989.

Shamedu Pedulu put Witham ahead in the 27th minute before Read equalised from the penalty spot two minutes later. Shane Stemp was fouled.

Pedulu then put Witham ahead again 54 minutes before Read scored twice to complete his treble and put Harlow 3-2 up.

Read’s second goal was a tap-in from a yard after a Leon Antoine header hit the bar.

Read’s third goal came on the hour mark from the penalty spot after a hand ball.

In between these goals, Witham’s John Watson was sent off for two bookings for a two-footed challenge on Hawks left-back Layne Eadie.

Preston’s massive 96 fans, who came from Johnathan Glovacki on 77 minutes and Junior Dasson on 86 minutes.

Assistant boss Paul West-Hook said: “We showed quite a lot of character to come back from behind twice as we did and everybody put in a performance.”

Read was distraught as play-off hopes are damaged

Hammers keeper hopeful

Tom’s really a Spurs fan!

TEN-twelve-year-old Tom Middleton is hoping to follow in the footsteps of famous Hammers goalkeeper Phil Parkes and Luke Devuluput Witham.

Tom, who signed up for the East London club – and admits he really is a Spurs fan! – was at the lite 48 tournament in Hainault playing for Frontiers Youth and we lost 4-0 but I had a great game and the keeper shot down by making some great saves.

“At the tournament was the West Ham head of recruitment for the academy, he saw my game and my dad doing my warm-up and asked my dad if I could go for a trial game on a Friday night at West Ham’s training ground at Chadwell Heath.

“I was really nervous but the other boys were so nice and friendly. We all went in to the changing rooms and they gave me a West Ham kit to wear.

HAMMER TIME: Young goalkeeper Tom Middleton is hoping to make the grade at West Ham United that made me feel like part of the team straight away. We came on to the pitch and I walked out past the parents I had a massive grin on my face where I was so happy to be there, and felt part of West Ham.

“I played for 60 minutes and after 30 minutes the goalkeeper coach said to my dad that he was making a suggestion that I was pre-offered a contract to sign when I was nine years old.

“I had to go to training sessions three times a week from the age of seven and even trained on Astroturf when it snowed!”

Last year Tom was chosen to take part in the Premier League’s, ‘best wishes’ weekend with three other academy players and earned praise from top FA coaches. “Something which I am very proud of is to be voted ‘best goalkeeper’ at the Premier League true national finals in November 2013 where I received a trophy with my name on it,” he said.

Tom started playing in goal when he was five at Harlow’s Ridders Wood FC. He later had trials with Tottenham and Arsenal before remaining with the Gunners for two years.

“When I first went in goal my dad took some shots at me and when I started to make some good saves I realised that I enjoyed being in goal,” he said.

His school allows him time off to pursue his passion of becoming a professional footballer.

“My school Stewards let me start my day release programme where I go to West Ham all day. It’s really tough as I now have all my school work to miss on a Thursday but the school are helping me with my dream to be a professional footballer. ”

Whisper it quietly but Tom’s idols are still in N17 rather than E13.

“I look up to goalkeepers like Hugo Lloris and I wish I can keep playing football like Brad Friedel when I am in my forties,” he added.

Read was distraught as play-off hopes are damaged

Harlow Tn ........................ 2
Cheshunt ......................... 2
(Ryman League, division one north)

ALEX Read was distraught after the Hawks’ play-off hopes were hit by a last-minute goal for Cheshunt which gave Omer Riza to tap into an empty net.

Hawks were not to be beaten and Mixeglis fired in a great second goal for them.

Hawks assistant boss Paul West-Hook said: “I think they played quite well. Defensively they played quite well and they had a bit of experience. “They really wanted it and they wanted to make things difficult for us. All round today I thought we were a bit better. They were quite good. But [Witham Town] took a lot out of us. We put a lot in that game and it was very physical!”

He added: “[It against Cheshunt] was an evenly matched game. They were up for it. We did better in the first half hour and then they came back into it. “I thought George Smith did well when he came on. He linked well with other players. We had numerous times to clear before they scored their second goal and we can only blame ourselves. It was a great strike. “They had other chances, they hit the cross bar and an offside goal. It was a fair result.”

Striker in odd boots as he breaks record

ALEX Read smashed through the 50-goal barrier as he struck twice as Harlow Town dispatched Redbridge 4-2 to continue their march towards the Ryman League division one north title. The striker took his tally to a record-shattering to the half century with his brace.

Leon Antoine and Junior Dadson also struck. The hosts were level at 2-2 early on in the second half but Harlow struck twice to take a crucial three points on Tuesday. Having beaten Jeff Wood’s

Hawks ace smashes through 50-goal mark

Alex Read has broken the 50-goal mark as he strikes twice as Harlow Town dispatched the albless century with his brace.

Against Redbridge, Harlow had built up a two-goal cushion but close-to-half-time the hosts scored twice to make it 2-2 at the break. Read had opened the scoring after only eight minutes when he stuffed in from close range after Dadson crossed from the right.

Against the in-form striker added as a second when he met Antoine’s through ball and fired low into a corner of the Redbridge net on 20 minutes. Redbridge halved the deficit when a ball fell loose on the edge of the penalty area and Stephen Good volleyed from inside a post on 36 minutes.

A corner was not cleared properly and a close-range shot was blasted home by Emiel Aikeno on 39 minutes.

However, Dadson made it 3-2 on 53 minutes when he rifled a shot into the net. And Antoine’s on the points just three minutes later when he latched on to a poor clearance from the Redbridge defence and slotted home from close range.

Hawks are third in the table.

NEW Harlow Town FC record goalscorer Alex Read has been wearing odd boots for the last few weeks, but that has not stopped his incredible run of goals.

Having scored six goals in Harlow’s last three games, Read has now reached an amazing 50 goals.

Speaking to the Star, Read said he was not too concerned about breaking Jeff Wood’s 25-year record, and more determined to make sure the Hawks secure a play-off spot in Ryman division one north.

Read (25) said: “It is a lovely achievement but there is more involved. Three points [against Cheshunt] would have been nice [than the record].”

The striker has been wearing one blue boot and one orange boot for the last few weeks after the studs broke on one pair and presumably he did not want to jinx himself as he got so close to a record which strangely enough was recorded in the very year he was born.

His mum Angela, who has travelled up from the family’s East London home to watch many of his games, said: “He won’t change them now. One of the studs broke so he’s been playing in different colours for the last few weeks. One is blue and the other one is orange.”

Mrs Read said her son has enjoyed playing at Harlow more than any of his previous clubs. “He loves it there. It’s such a lovely club. He just wants them to go up.”

Hawks assistant boss West-Hook praised the in-form forward. He said: “It is amazing to have scored that amount of goals this season. It’s a fantastic achievement. “He has got that knack. He just knows where that goal is. It is his positioning. He has that natural ability and you cannot coach that.”

Assistant boss targets top three and home play-off

ASSISTANT manager Paul West-Hook wants Harlow Town to finish at least third and guarantee a home play-off semi-final in Ryman League division one north.

Harlow face a make-or-break Easter weekend, with a trip to play-off chasing Needham Market on Saturday followed by a tricky home match against Maldon & Tiptree on Monday.

The Hawks could do with title-chasing Witham winning at Heybridge Swifts on Saturday.

West-Hook said: “Every game we have to get as many points as we can. We have one home game left and we must get three points from that.

He added: “I like to think we can get in the play-offs [finish in the top five] but we would like more. We want more. We want to get home advantage.

“If we can get into second place or third place, that is going to be our home advantage.”

Home advantage played a part when Harlow beat Sudbury on penalties in the play-offs at the end of the 2006/07 season in Ryman League division one north.

But playing away at Wingate & Finchley in the semi-final of the play-offs at the end of the 2010/11 season saw Harlow lose.

West-Hook said: “We have beaten Witham twice and that might help us if we play them [in the play-offs], but who knows what is going to happen?

Perhaps we will face Heybridge and they have done us three times, twice in the league and once in the cup.”

He added: “It’s exciting. You are nervous at the moment as you do not know where you are going to finish. There are still twists and turns left.”
